

Women's Guild members assemble gift bags for a Detroit charity.

Reaching Out in Detroit

Last month, the Women's Guild of St. John Church of Southfield, MI, collected and assembled gift bags for a local non-profit. Under the leadership of Women's Guild member Sue Vian, members donated gloves, socks, toiletries, jewelry, school supplies, cosmetic bags, and Christmas gift items.

The bags were donated to Alternatives for Girls, a charity helping inner-city young women in the Detroit region.

Since 2007, the Women's Guild has been gathering every November to help the Alternatives for Girls program, donating some 650 bags in the past six years.
